

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

School Set to Have a Week-End of Gaiety Despite War—Nancy Wynne Chats About a Number of Persons and Things—Other Matters

REALLY, it seems quite like a season for debutantes when one looks on one's calendar and sees all the excitements planned for the school set. Tonight there will be the dance which Mrs. and Mrs. Oliver Boyer Judge, of Chestnut Hill, will give for Charlotte Starr, the lovely little daughter of the Theodore Starrs. Staying with Charlotte is Rachel Prizer, of Lancaster, and so she will share the honors of the party.

It won't be a great big affair, but it will be a mighty enjoyable one, and among the guests will be Lorraine Dieston, Louise Dixon, E. Martin George, Sarah Starr, Peggy Ferguson, Marianna Bonnell, Katherine Porter, Nancy Linnard, Geraldine Beech, of Ballston, N. Y.; Nan Beebe, Anne Cooke, of Warrenton, Va.; Ted Farnum, Jim Ferguson, John Zane, Fred Swope, Tom Day, Arthur Crisfield, Dick Foltz, Joe Taylor, Stewart Wurtz, Jr., Palmer Lloyd, Russell Lewis and Edward Wilson.

TOMORROW the Bob Cassatts will entertain in honor of Jessie Da Costa at their home in Rosemont and the Tom McKean will give a dinner for Nancy McKean before the dance. This on Monday night there will be the William Cadwalader dance for Christine Cadwalader.

Wasn't it funny the dance came out in the papers? First O. C. D. P. had it that Mrs. Cadwalader had sent out invitations for a dance on Friday, June 21; then another paper came out next day and said the dance would be on June 22, Saturday night; while still another announced that the party would take place on Monday, June 24. Naturally, every one was excited until it was found that the first invitations to go out were for Friday, the 21st; then for some reason it was necessary to change the date to June 24, so a second set were sent the very next day, and that, therefore, was the cause of the reason why.

PHOEBE DOWNS is being entertained quite a bit these days. The Henry Brinton Coxes gave a dinner on Thursday night and last night her aunt, Mrs. Bob Downs, gave a dinner at her home in Germantown for Phoebe and her niece, John Weir Sargent. Young Sargent is a member of the Yale Battery, by the way, but is here on a furlough of two weeks, and is spending his time staying at the Downs home at Three Tuns.

WALLINGFORD is to have a fête for war-relief work, and it will take place tomorrow from 3 in the afternoon until 11 p. m. Mrs. Charles Downing has given her lovely grounds for the party, which is under a committee whose chairman is Mrs. Walter Neall. The other members are Mrs. Downing, Mrs. James Watt Mercer, Mrs. Eastwick and Miss Large.

There will be music, fancy dancing, a cafeteria and other entertaining features, besides the booths for the sale of fancy articles, candy, cake and toys. Among the prominent women interested are Mrs. Charles H. Bean, Mrs. M. R. Jackson, Mrs. Eugene P. Caldwell, Jr., Mrs. Marcus C. Heilner, Mrs. Charles Hart, Mrs. T. Ellwood Allison, Mrs. Edward Chandler, Mrs. Lucius Deebe and Mrs. R. Kerr.

SHOULD anything so wonderful as peace be declared before next fall one of the girls who would probably be brought out is Gertrude Conaway. She is brought out by her mother, Mrs. Barklie Henry. Many statements to the contrary, she is not going to camp this summer, but will spend the warm weather in Ventnor with her parents. Her brothers, Jack Conaway and Barklie Henry, Jr., leave St. George's School at Newport this week, too, but they will spend the summer in camp after a short visit home. Mrs. Henry, you-know, was Miss Mary Hancock of this city, a sister of Mrs. Timothee Adamowski and a first cousin of Mrs. Ben Reath and Mrs. Joe Widener. She married Jack Conaway first and later Mr. Henry after Mr. Conaway's death. Gertrude is an awfully sweet girl and is very popular.

MANY Chester Valley attics are being searched for treasures of past generations to be exhibited tomorrow after 3 o'clock at Wilson Farm, the residence of C. Colket Wilson, where a lawn fête will be held for the War Chest pledge of Chester Valley section of Paoli branch of the American Red Cross.

soldiers, sailors and marines by the war service committee of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania on Saturday evening from 7 until 10 o'clock. Mr. Albert Cook Myers, chairman, and Mr. Ernest Spofford, secretary of the war service committee, will be assisted in receiving by a committee of the Colonial Dames consisting of Miss Lydia T. Morris, Mrs. Arthur H. Lea, Mrs. Charles W. Henry, Mrs. Samuel B. Chew, Mrs. Charles Roberts and Mrs. Nathaniel S. Keay, chairman.

Mr. Charles Curtis Harrison entertained at Happy Creek Farm, his place at St. Davids, last evening for the Farmers' Club. About forty guests were present.

Friends of Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson, 33, who was operated on for appendicitis at a hospital in Watertown, N. Y., will be glad to know that her condition is improving. His mother, Mrs. George H. Earle, Jr., is with Mrs. Patterson.

Miss Henriette McDonald Wilson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. Reynolds Wilson, returned this week from Ossining School at Ossining-on-the-Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Adler, of Greene street, Germantown, are spending a few weeks at Pocono Lake Preserve.

Mrs. Alexander D. Hixon and her daughter, Mrs. Henry Tetlow, 24, are at Pocono Manor for a few days.

Dr. Robert Emien Pitfield, of 5211 Wayne avenue, Germantown, is spending several weeks in Jamestown, R. I.

A lawn party will be given tomorrow afternoon and evening under the auspices of the Samaritan Red Cross Auxiliary. Mrs. H. Rhodes is in charge of the affair. There will be refreshments and dancing, and at 7:30 Miss J. Allen, who represents the Joan of Arc in the third Liberty Loan parade, will show her educated horses.

Mr. Thomas Convery, of North Twentieth street, has enlisted in the United States Naval Reserves and is now stationed at Cape May.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Horace Miller and Miss E. Dorothea Miller and Miss Agnes Miller, of 1329 Lincoln avenue, Moores, have opened their summer villa, at 424 Bay avenue, Ocean City, where they will remain until November.

Miss Josephine Michell, of Ridley Park, has been entertaining Miss Elizabeth Vantine, of Avalon, N. J., as her house guest for the last week.

Miss Mary Mulford, daughter of Mrs. Vincent Mulford, who has been entertained at luncheon today in honor of Miss Emily Lewis, whose wedding takes place tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Murphy and Miss Stella Murphy, of 1830 Bittenhouse square, have opened their new cottage on South LaCade street, Chelsea, for the summer.

Mrs. William H. Greenfield and Miss Marie Greenfield, of 1309 West Lehigh avenue, are spending the week in New York as the guests of Mrs. Greenfield's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Condon. Mrs. Condon will be remembered as Miss Agnes Loughran, of this city.

Mrs. Willie B. Moyer, of Lancaster, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Chiquoine, of Thirteenth avenue, Moores, for the last week. Mrs. Moyer formerly was Miss Julia Chiquoine.

Mrs. A. M. Zane and her daughters, Miss Gertrude Zane and Mrs. Edward Mallon, have opened a cottage at Merion, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Frank Hardart and his daughters have recently returned from Austria, where they were visiting, and have opened their home in Glen Rock for the summer. Mr. Gustav Hardart is stationed at one of the southern training camps.

Miss Mary Martin is spending several weeks at Sea Isle City as the guest of Miss Helen Shea.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Snowden, Jr., of Media, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Snowden, to Mr. William Hurlock Rieby, also of Media. Mr. Rieby sailed a short time ago for foreign service with the American Red Cross.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Thorp, of 405 South Forty-third street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion R. Thorp, to Sergeant Albert C. Worrell, of Mount Holly, N. J., who is stationed at Camp McClellan, Alabama, awaiting orders to go to France. Miss Thorp, accompanied by her fiancé's father, recently returned from a visit to Alabama.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Goll, of 1417 W. Allegheny avenue, have received word of the safe arrival overseas of Mrs. Goll's nephew, Lieutenant J. Williams Sechler, of the Nineteenth Field Artillery, U. S. A. Lieutenant Sechler, who is a member of the Philadelphia bar, since his training at Fort Niagara has won a first lieutenancy and a permanent commission in the regular army.

Mr. Richard Tighman, Jr., will spend the summer at York Harbor. Captain Tighman is in France.

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Keith, of 226 South Twenty-first street, will leave on Saturday for York Harbor to spend the summer.

The marriage of Miss Theodora Corlies Stachowicz and Mr. Charles Gilbert Hill, both of Chestnut Hill, took place yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church, Lancaster, Pa., at noon.

This evening there will be a dance in the parish house of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, Wissahickon. An informal entertainment will be given and strawberries and ice cream will be served. The Junior Baptist Union of the Manayunk Baptist Church will present an honor roll to the church this evening as a memorial to the boys of the church in the service. Several church members from the navy yard will take part in the entertainment and will present the sketch "A Man Without a Country." There will be patriotic tableaux and music. The juniors have been requested to repeat the entertainment at the navy yard in the near future.

GIRLS TO STUDY FOOD SAVING

Special Class to Open at State College on July 1

A group of young women selected by the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, food conservation department, will have a special course in demonstrations of food conservation work at State College, beginning July 1.

State College is offering this course under the direction of its regular teaching force as a contribution to war work. Applicants who desire to may register at Room 1006 Finance Building, South Penn Square.

The course will include the use of substitute flour, canning, preserving and drying of vegetables and fruits. Upon completion of this work each student will return to her own county to do volunteer work.

COUNTRY FAIR STARTS AT 4 O'CLOCK IN FRANKFORD

Soldiers and Sailors' Service Committee to Benefit by Sales of Today

A real old-fashioned country fair will be given by the American Red Cross Auxiliary, No. 12, of Frankford, for the benefit of their soldiers and sailors' service committee. The affair will be held this afternoon and evening from 4 until 10 o'clock on the adjoining estates of Mr. John T. Greenwood and Mr. Horace T. Greenwood, Leiper and Foulkrod streets, Frankford.

The object of this recently formed service committee is to take care of the welfare of every enlisted and drafted man in Frankford and to see that he leaves the city with a complete knitted set, comfort kit and all such necessities. The service committee also looks after the family of every man and pays a friendly visit to each man, if possible, before the man is called away, so that it will be able to give any help which may be necessary. The future soldier is then carefully instructed to apply to his commanding officer for his allotment and separation allowance immediately upon his arrival in camp. A card is also given to each man, which is to be mailed to the home-service section of the Red Cross should any difficulties arise in the family life during his absence. Mrs. Frank Embury is chairman of the service committee and Miss Grace Greenwood is chairman of the fair committee.

The main feature of the fair will be the country store, where one may purchase anything from peanuts and pickles to a new summer gown. There will be three departments in this store, drygoods, groceries and the postoffice, where all sorts of mysterious frocks of organdie, with tarleton bows and streamers of rainbow shades, and carry baskets of flowers and old-fashioned bouquets and nosegays.

The circus side-shows, including such interesting features as clowns, a bandy and performing animals, will be in charge of Mrs. Alfred Anderson, assisted by Miss Helen Hunter and Miss Edie Guchen. All sorts of games, such as ring-toss, "knock the baby," etc., will be managed by Mrs. J. Walter Eastburn. Her aides, who will wear old-fashioned country costumes, will include Miss Louise Sanna, Miss Katherine Embury and Miss Margaret Penlebury.

A typical country supper will be served in the restaurant, which will be under the direction of Mrs. Norman Carter and Mrs. Ernest Margeson, assisted by a number of their younger set, who will act as waitresses. In addition to this, other good things will be for sale on the grounds. Mrs. James McBrister will sell cakes, "knock the baby," A. Wilgus will be in charge of the ice cream and Miss Schofield and Mrs. Owen Bukkus, respectively.

Wedding of Interest in New York

The marriage of Mrs. Margaret Field De Motte, daughter of the late Colonel Thomas Yardley Field, of this city, and Mr. Charles Buck took place quietly yesterday at noon at the home of the bride, 27 Washington square, North, New York. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant, and the bride was given in marriage by her son, Mr. John Field De Motte. Mr. Robert H. Davis of New York, was best man. The bridegroom, who is well known as a writer, is the son of Mr. Charles William Buck, of Louisville, Ky., formerly United States minister to Peru, and Mr. Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Buck will pass the summer at Cape Cod, returning to New York in the fall.

DON'T THROW AWAY ROUGH COAL CLINKERS

Treated With Strong Brine for Twenty-four Hours They Burn Beautifully

"Did it ever occur to you to attempt to salvage the clinkers?" asked the commuter, who manages the furnace in his pretty suburban home. "I have made an important discovery lately, or, at least, I did not make the discovery myself, but a friend of mine did. I have tried it out and proved its worth to my own satisfaction. Now, if you have ever tried to run a furnace—or a kitchen stove, either, you know that there are almost always a great many clinkers which clog up the grate and have to be removed. These are usually thrown away as worthless. But they need not all be discarded; some of them may be used, if a little time is spent in preparing them. There are two kinds of clinkers, the smooth kind, pieces of stone which have become blackened by association with real coal, but which cannot be burned, however hard one may try, and a rough kind which consists of pieces of real coal which, however, does not burn readily. Any one who takes care of a furnace or a coal stove knows these varieties and is able to distinguish between them.

OLD-FASHIONED GARDEN PARTY NEXT THURSDAY

Affair Will Aid St. Francis's Country Home for Convalescent Soldiers and Sailors

Mrs. A. Nash Burke has issued invitations for an old-fashioned garden party at her home, Allowell, Merion, on Thursday, June 27, from 4 until 9 o'clock, for the benefit of the opening and maintaining of St. Francis's Country Home for our Convalescent Soldiers and Sailors.

Mrs. Burke's home is ideally situated for an out-of-door fête of this description, the large sloping lawns leading down into a sunken garden. There will be tables arranged for card players, while a musicale, in which some of the most prominent artists in the city will take part, will add to the entertainment of the afternoon. Mrs. John Joyce, Jr., has charge of the musicale, while Mrs. Thomas P. Hunter is in charge of the card tables.

Light refreshments may be had during the afternoon, while supper will be served from 7 until 8 o'clock. An orchestra will supply music for dancing on lawn and porches.

Among the other aides who will assist Mrs. Burke in receiving are Mrs. James Mundy, Mrs. W. Newbold Watson, Mrs. Joseph Israel, Mrs. William J. Ryan, Miss Marie Canby, Miss Beatrice Hartley, Miss Helen Hartley, Miss Adelaide Pyle, Miss Coleman, Mrs. Frank Trainer, Mrs. M. McMeahan and Mrs. Charles Hallahan.

The following members of St. Francis's Aid Society will act as aides during the afternoon and evening: Miss Philomena Johann, Miss Henrietta Jenkins, Miss Vivian Kennerly, Miss Anna McCarrey, Miss Constance Burns, Miss Anna DeWitt, Miss Catherine Schlatter, Miss Mary Stain, Miss Elizabeth Stain, Miss Genevieve Harrison, Miss Dorothy Mundy, Miss Winifred Thomas, Miss Gertrude Rescher, Miss Claudia Briggs, Miss Gertrude Gane, Miss Anna Sticker, Miss Frances Lodge, Miss Katherine McLean, Miss Mary O'Loughlin, Miss Katherine O'Loughlin.

"DOUBLE OR SPLIT" AIDS TOBACCO FUND

Plan of Sharing Smoke Money With the Boys "Over There" a Success

The "double-or-split" slogan of the tobacco fund of the overseas committee of the Emergency Aid has begun to appeal to the men who use tobacco. Many have started to double or split once a week the money they spend for tobacco with the boys "over there" and several of the contributions noted today are the result.

At the meeting of the tobacco committee yesterday Mrs. William Gray Warden, chairman, reported that eighty-two more cases of tobacco, mostly cigarettes, have been received in Paris and forwarded for distribution. Much of this tobacco is distributed in France through the agency of the Red Cross, and Dean Frederick W. Beckman, director of the Paris Soldiers and Sailors' Club, in his report to the committee, pays the Red Cross a high compliment for its splendid system of transport. Nearly all of the Emergency Aid tobacco goes to the men at the front and in the evacuation hospitals.

The committee also announces that the transportation arrangements and shipping facilities on this side of the Atlantic have been so much improved that hereafter there will be very little delay in getting the much-desired tobacco across.

The contributions to and expenditures from the various overseas funds to date are as follows:

PRIZES TO ART STUDENTS

Three Philadelphia art students whose work in posing dealing with the subject of health was approved by the Philadelphia committee of the Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

The prize winners, all students at the Pennsylvania School of Industrial Art, Broad and Pine streets, are Mildred Buckley, whose poster, "Pure Air Will Fight Disease," merited the highest award of $10; Frederick C. Knight, whose "Exercise in the Open Air" received the second prize of $5, and Helen F. Conner, who was rewarded with $3 for her poster entitled "Exercise—Get Back to Nature."

The posters are now on exhibition at the headquarters of the Philadelphia committee, Pennsylvania Building. They will be reproduced and thousands distributed throughout the city in furtherance of the work of education carried on by the organization.

CLUBS REMAIN OPEN FOR FIGHTING

Women's Organizations Plan to Provide Amusement During Summer

The problem of providing entertainment during the summer for the enlisted men of a still a knotty one for the women's clubs. Feeling that the men encamped or stationed here and nearby have come to count, more or less, on the evenings given them by women's clubs, the members have decided to keep them open all summer, vigorously meeting the Gordian knot of financial obstacles.

The work of providing amusement for the young men in the clubs was undertaken by the women not only for patriotic reasons, but from a natural sympathy which women always feel when they see a man wandering around without an idea of what to do with himself. They wanted to give the boys a decent place to come to when they were on leave and refined surroundings and companionship, not merely to keep them in good shape for the service of their country, but because they knew that that was what the boys wanted and what they were homesick for.

The women couldn't go back on them during the summer. The New Century Club decided that the Sunday evening entertainments would have to be kept up. Naturally, the financial considerations are still large enough to intrude upon the horizon very often. Appeals for funds were sent out by the club late in the spring, for the winter drain on supplies had exhausted them. Answers to the appeals were sufficient.

The Philomusian Club was confronted with the same problem. The boys had learned to make the clubhouse their headquarters for the evenings and the women simply could not consider closing it to them. The money had shown threatening signs, but the club members have made arrangements for light meals to be served during the summer, the idea being that "a slim-larder maketh a fat fool." But the boys will not be economical on their own. They shall have without stint all amusement and "cats" that can be provided in these strained times.

At the Philomusian Red Cross work will be kept up steadily all summer. If it is to be open, then every particle of use it can give will be wrung from it. A tremendous amount of work is scheduled for this chapter and members have pledged themselves to put out a fixed allotment of work while they are in the city. Knitting must be part of the vacation joys and members who are dropping over their needles in a temperature of 84 degrees Fahrenheit are requested to expand their imaginations and picture the truce charms of the winter battlefields—and go to work.
